The Tippecanoe County Historical Association is proud to announce that it has received an Indiana Humanities CARES grant in the amount of $7,500.00 in funds for general operations. Funding has been provided to the Tippecanoe County Historical Association from Indiana Humanities and the National Endowment for the Humanities as part of the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act economic stabilization plan of 2020.

“This grant comes during a time of great uncertainty with our organization as we have dealt with the effects of Coronavirus on our overall association and our budget. This grant will help stabilize the financial bleeding that has been taking place over the past two months. Finding grants that help organizations like ours deal with daily operations are few and far between,” said Craig Hadley, Executive Director of the Tippecanoe County Historical Association. “We cannot thank Indiana Humanities enough for making this grant available as it is making the difference between staying closed to the public and being able to open our doors once again for public programs, research, and education.”
